ABOUT THIS BOTTLE

This is a classic style of Tequila in every sense, but the regulatory name. Tasting like Tequila of yesteryear, before modern Tequila switched to industrialized farming and production shortcuts. This Tequilana is produced only 5 minutes away from the Tequila out-skirts. With the border in sight, the denomination of origin does not apply here, meaning this unique spirit focuses on the people behind the label, their family history and the production process. The Bañuelos family has been making Tequilana since the 1970s, well before the Denomination of Origin for Tequila was defined or regulated as such. Fresh and crisp with spearmint, white flowers and grassiness and a strong yet integrated minerality overlaying a backbone of green apple / quince and a touch of a tropical note.
